Nexion435 and The Order of Iniquity

As many of you know, a new so called nexion435 has arisen seemingly out of nowhere, a poor attempt at a coup shrouded in lies and deception all by one singular informant. Let us first examine the nature of the individual in question. Originally a low end occult seller found on twitter by the proper Blood Reichs-Fuhrer Nero aka Nachtferat Noctulius, he went by Gorewaffen. At the time, Nero purchased a few items from Gore aka Steven Perkinson, and invited the individual to a collaboration with a actual nexion, that being 435. This was short lived as Gorewaffen disappeared seemingly for no reason ( leaving many individuals without receiving their products they purchased, effectively scammed). A phone call was arranged between Gorewaffen and Nero in which Gore claimed he was snitched on and sought revenge, stating several highly illegal and illogical plans, Nero spoke against these schemes (which in reality were attempts to entrap). Gorewaffen went mia for several months.

Only to return claiming jail time( later revealed he was institutionalized for a severe mental health crisis). Upon his return Nero offered him a spot in the Noctulian Blood Covenant, a decision I thoroughly disagreed with. For a short while they seemed to get much done together, becoming friends or so Nero thought.

Once again, Gorewaffen (by this time going by Sinister Wyrd), who never experienced any aspect of the seven fold way before this, departed, claiming he was done with the o9a and ToB. I had a brief video chat with Nero regarding my distrust of this kid, explaining that his ego will destroy us and he is likely to get scared and rat, but unfortunately Nero did not listen. Further more around this time Gorewaffen, in a paranoid state came up with some absurd plan to infiltrate The Black Order and several other groups for something he called Project Artemis. Nero and I as well as the order of iniquity did not take this plan seriously, and discarded the idea. Next Sinister Wyrd gets extremely sick, loses his job and becomes a recluse. Nero offered support, financially to who he considered his friend, a weakness that Nero should’ve never succumbed to. Steven aka Sinister Wyrd promises to sell a item to Nero, accepting a payment and effectively scamming him, soon after the cops raid Nero’s home twice looking for firearms based off a tip. Finding nothing of the sort the settle for arresting him on possession of ammunition, brass knuckles and knifes as a felon. Nero goes away for 2 months.

The Order of iniquity continued on with facilitation of The Blood Covenant435 in his absence. During this, Steven joins the Satanic Front, once again changing his nym to Blair Tyrant. While in satanic front he admits to being a informant to several members, and admits to “cashing out on Nero’s arrest”.

Due to confirmed federal interest, unbeknownst to Nero and the Nexion originating from Steven, we Collectively decided to go dark for a while. This decision was made in the interest in protecting 435 by The Order of Iniquity (the founding inner hierarchy of 435, a kollective of individuals who joined in the beginning and, or are original founding members, made up of 5 individuals who made decisions together regarding the outer 435).

Upon Nero's return, he reached out to Steven, who he still believed was his friend. Steven then began begging Nero to join him in Satanic Front, which Nero denied. Blair Tyrant went on to do what he does best, streak egos and create mildly useful propaganda for SF. Eventually, Steven changes his name to Nachtferat ( of which I'm sure he doesn't even know the meaning of) and takes up the 435 banner, to our confusion. He then begs Nero to join him, insisting Nero is subordinate to him (delusional to say the least!) and proceeds to hijack the nexion.

This is impossible because not only is Nero the Blood Reichs-Fuhrer, but the Noctulian Blood Covenant is ran by multiple individuals who all agree on what is or is not to change or happen. The little spoken of inner Order of Iniquity is ran by individuals who personally know each other, with several years of sinister experience, some who were present for the ritual foundation and dedication performed by Nero in State Prison. Blair/Sinister Wyrd/ Scourge (as he goes by now) does not meet the criteria of such higher membership, nor does he meet the alchemal requirements as he barely under took initiation under the watch of Nero. *Video of this initiation may be released soon. The Order of Iniquity is briefly mentioned in Corrective Discipline and can be found in pdf as well as hard copy publishing on lulu.

Let's look at Scourges contributions to 435.

Admittedly he was most useful for his graphic design, perhaps his only talent. Besides that, he rarely produced anything of use, when he did provide articles, they were always magian in essence (Islam worship) or simply insipid and lacked any true esoteric value, bordering on fed posting. ( his fictional rape story was almost removed due to it lacking any value beyond shock). The majority of Corrective Discipline was written by Nero, False Prophet and myself Vargolac Noctulius ( all of which are Order of Iniquity).

His other useful quality was his ability to gain attention, which of course brought more readers.

Nearly all of Scourge's contacts came from Nero, who already had build a impressive list of well know contacts ranging from Secuntra to the ToB and TBO even speaking with Anton Long Briefly.

Nero was in essence everything Gorewaffen wanted to be. He is too incapable to create anything authentic himself, so he attempts to hijack another's works even going as far as briefly impersonating him.

Scourge's latest releases are nothing but simple smear campaigns, but where is the sinister ? Where is the esoteric wisdom? Killing a cat does not make you sinister, nor does smearing your mentors.

As for the controversy of Nero, we really don't care what he was convicted of 11 years ago, the circumstances may very. Nor do we rely on magian sources to judge the sinister character of a individual. What ever may or may not have happened is his problem, his history before our formation is irrelevant, everyone makes mistakes, some are falsely accused. In the time that I've known Nero, he has only ever condemned degeneracy such as 764, something he expressed adamantly to everyone many times over. His sinister character is proven, he has the wisdom, the ability and drive, the fact that you are all reading this and his works speaks a lot. 7 years incarcerated is along time, and he came out without scratch on him. All he ever wanted to do was contribute to a tradition he loved, but individuals such as Gorewaffen and Dark gnosis betray trust, betray honor and hold the greater mission back.

Nero is not 435, The Order of iniquity is. I myself am from Australia, I uphold the 435 nexion here, he leads in the states. From now on, no members will be further admitted, no further responses given to unfamiliar and untrusted individuals.
Nero challenged gore to a duel, just as he did to Dark Gnosis, unsurprisingly neither had the honor to take up the offer. (No Nero is Not Hispanic, he is Italian and German)
Steven and his federal friends can watch all they want, we have broken no laws. Nexion 435 is focused on Noctulian Discipline, Wamphyric evolution and sinister aeonics, when someone comes to us speaking of simplistic mundane crime and childish rebellion we turn them away and sever ties, this should've been done with Gorewaffen. So until the heat is drawn away, via failed investigations originating from Gorewaffen , Nero will be continuing to take some time away, but we of the Order of Iniquity are here, and always have been, watching.
Our near future plans include establishing common knowledge of the imposter, and publishing more works on the Sinister blood Press. Up coming projects include the Non-NSK edition of liber333 and the sinister way.
We did not need 30 pages to establish our stance, no need for convincing ourselves of delusions. We simply state facts. We do not care who follows us, we do our work for the greater evil, for the Blood Family and for our own Wyrd.

You have to put together a 30 page document shitting on Nero just to feebly try to convince people that you are now the legitimate leader of NBC435. lolz. I don't think you even convinced yourself.

@StygianLycus

You also on multiple phone calls told me you are a federal informant and that you cashed in on Nero getting arrested. You also asked me if I wanted a referral to become a federal informant and I declined three times.
